PhiloLogie Society

PhiloLogie or 'Friends of the Logie Collection' is a charitable trust that was established in 2003. The society fundraises for new acquisitions and specific projects, it sponsors events, encourages research, and organises activities that build awareness and connect the Logie Collection with the community. PhiloLogie members care about classical antiquities and the future of the Collection. We are always looking for new members and new ideas.

The Logie Collection

In 1957 Marion Steven, a Classics Lecturer, established the James Logie Memorial Collection at Canterbury University College. The Logie Collection commemorates Marion's husband James Logie, the Registrar of the College, who died in 1956.

Today the Logie Collection is widely regarded as one of the best teaching collections of classical antiquities in the Southern Hemisphere. There are several items of particular note including the 'stilt-walkers' amphora by the Swing Painter, and the 'Logie Cup', a drinking cup that is the naming cup of the 'Logie painter'. Without doubt this Collection of antiquities is a treasure.

To find out more about the Collection, see www.arts.canterbury.ac.nz/logie/

Benefits

As a member of PhiloLogie you will receive:

- Invitations to guest lectures and talks by visiting scholars.
- Private 'behind the scenes' tours with the Curators.
- Invitations to exhibition openings and special events.
- The PhiloLogie newsletter.
- Discounts on Logie Collection merchandise, including Catalogues.

What your support achieves

The PhiloLogie is more than your average friends society – funds raised by the membership have supported a number of important projects including:

- Production of the Logie Collection Catalogue
- Purchase of exhibition cases

Your support plays an important role in maintaining and promoting this important Collection.
